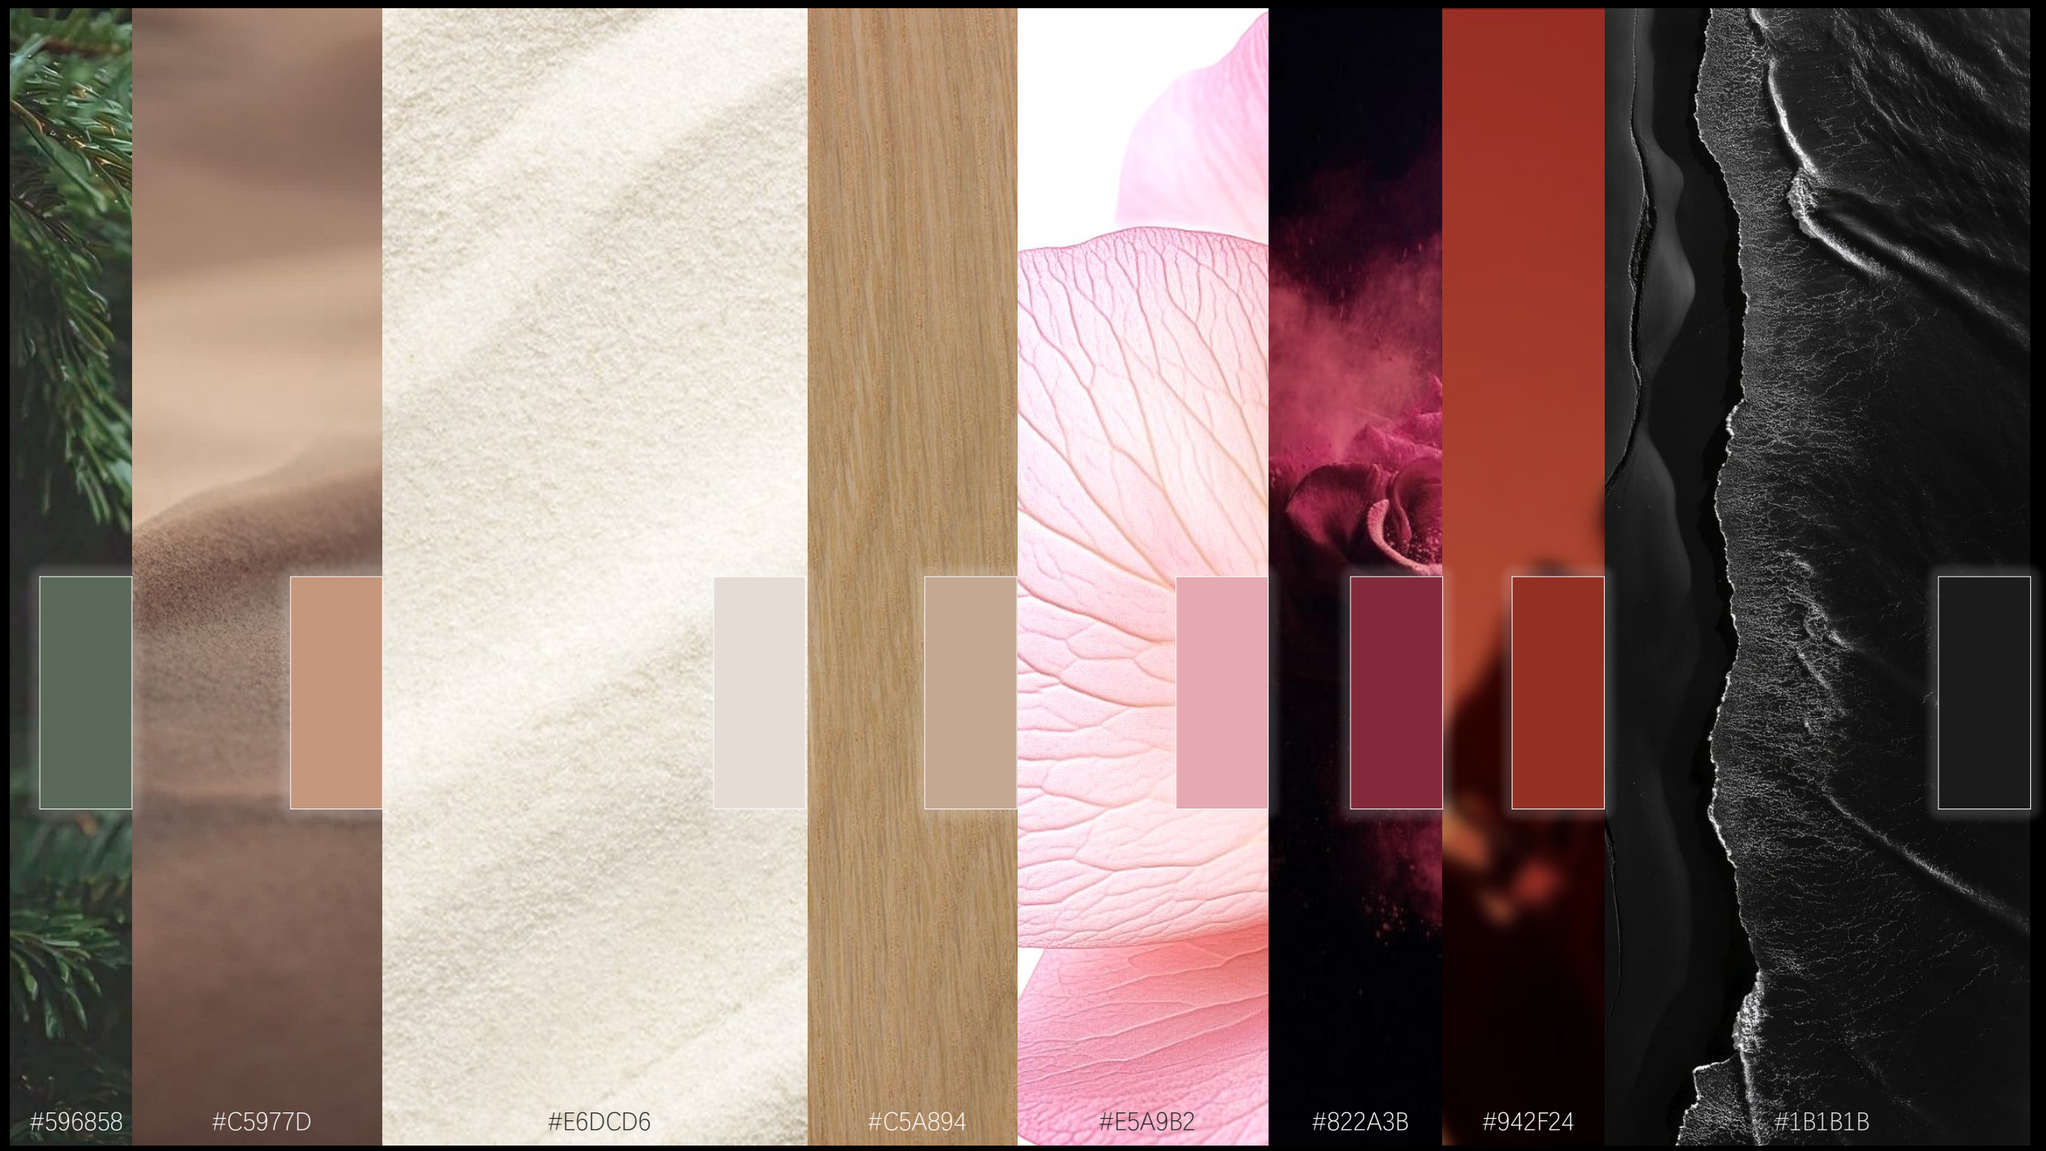
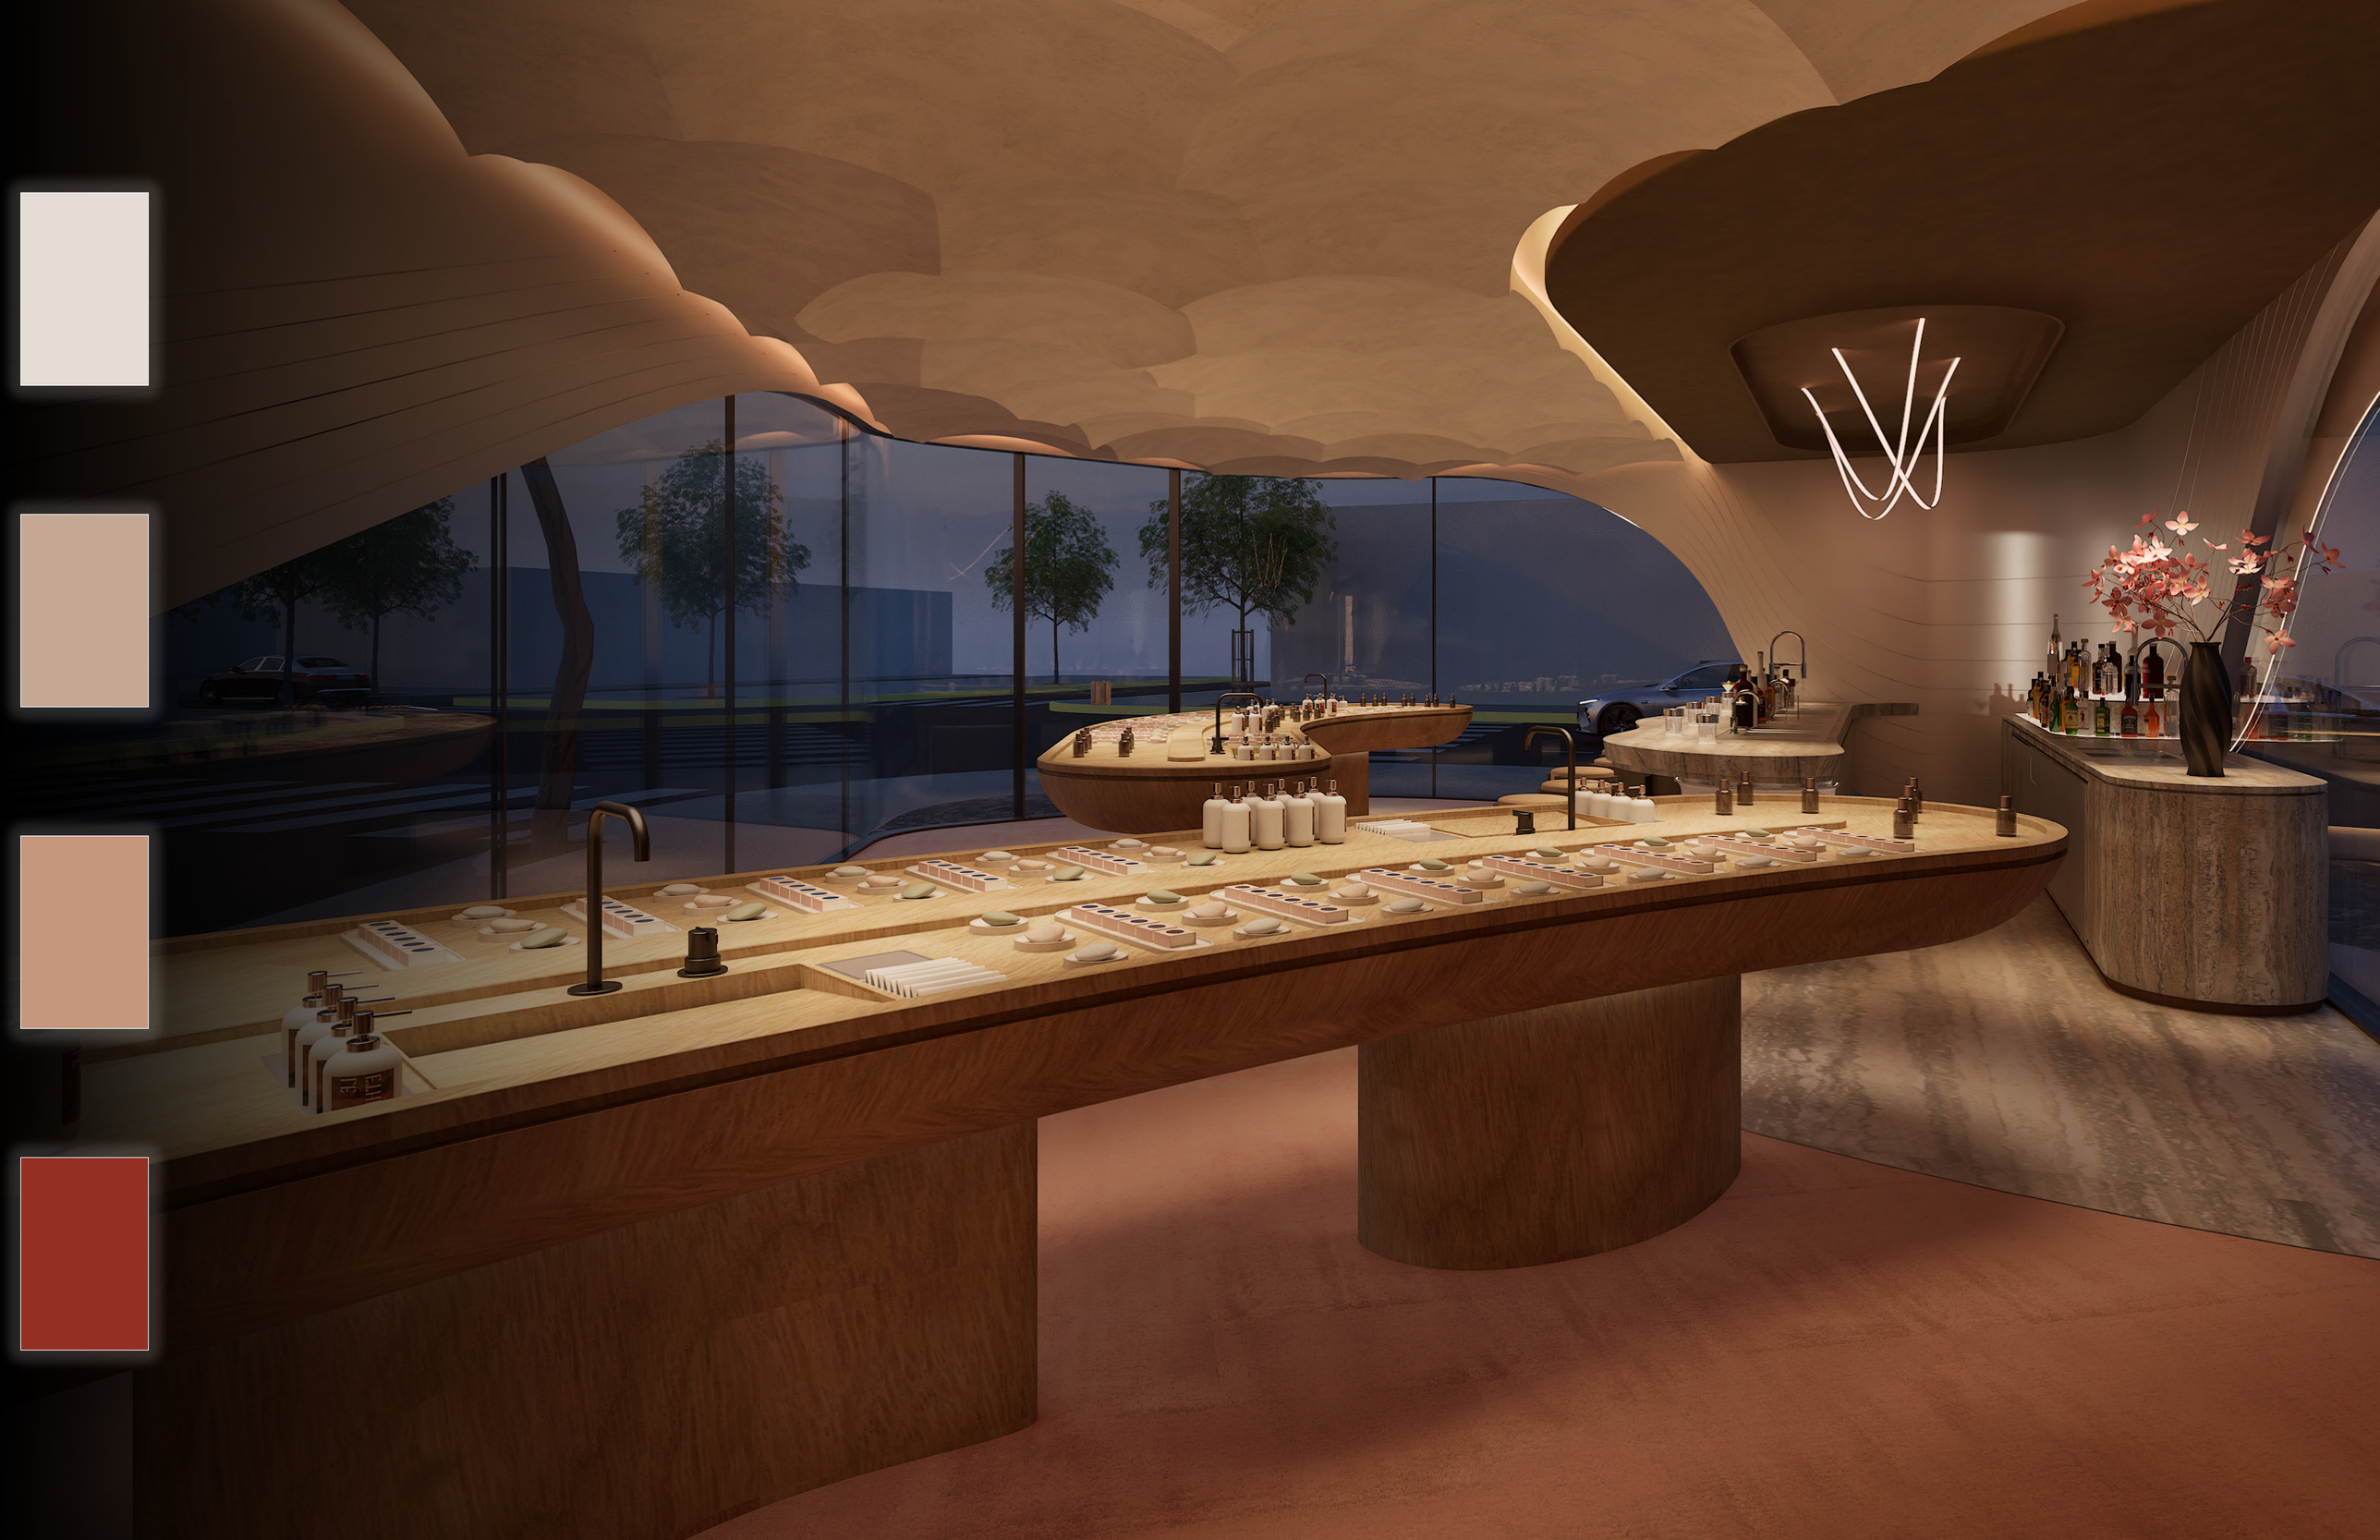
Imagining exploring Mojave desert, and suddenly encounter a shrine with cedarwood scent, the earth tone and dark green creating a sense of peaceful mind. And there is a sophisticated flower field within the shrine, vibrant botanical colors and vivid tone immerses audience into a dramatic journey. There is also a dark night sky above the flower field, the dark color, the quiet night sky tone silently whispering a mysterious exploration.

The Color Palette





COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

SURFACE IMPERFECTION

The materials of ETHEREA (mother of pearl, Travertine, micro cement, clay plaster, camphorwood) are not coated with any paint or surface treatments. Minimizing the VOC emission and reducing the carbon footprint.

LONG LASTING

The material within the ETHEREA is durable and long lasting enough to upcycled into other use after its life cycle, minimizing the carbon footprint for replacing or repairing material.

REPURPOSED CONSTRUCTION

Protect the ocean environment by collecting discarded glass bottles and discarded empty perfume bottle, remaking them into perfume bottle and dining sets, preventing the bottle to damage the ocean ecosystem.
