ABOUT

Howdy! Saloni Mistry is currently a 3rd year ArtCenter College of Design student. The ability to story tell using a strong visual language is what makes the magic in films and strives to be a part of those projects. Her main artistic interests are in environment visual development, color-keys, and illustration. She aims to be open minded and wants to learn from artists around her and continue to work on bettering her skills. Her goal is to create visual literacy and communicate new original ideas that challenge the artistic standard.
